However, as set forth in MPEP § 803, if the search and examination of an entire application can be made without serious burden, the examiner must examine it on the merits, even though the application contains claims to independent and distinct inventions. While the inventions may be distinct (although not explained in the Office Action), it is respectfully submitted that simultaneous examination will not present a serious burden. Indeed, the claimed inventions include subject matters that are related to the extent that all claims would undoubtedly be commonly classified. As such, it is respectfully submitted that there would be no serious burden on Examiner to simultaneously examination commonly classified claims. Under such circumstances, it is respectfully requested that Examiner maintain all claims in the same application.

Respectfully submitted,
